Governor Uba Sani launched the Kaduna State Women Economic Empowerment Policy, alongside the Women Peace and Security Action Plan, and Youth Peace and Security Action Plan last week. The event turned out to be more than a women's affair.

Gov Uba Sani: The Champion of inclusivity

By Abdallah Yunus Abdallah

People from all walks of life gathered at the Umaru Musa Yarádua Conference Centre for the Women Economic Empowerment Summit on November 22, 2024, to witness the three-in-one event. Senator Uba Sani, the Kaduna State Governor, used the opportunity to highlight his achievements in Agriculture, poverty alleviation and women empowerment. At intervals, delegates and distinguished personalities interrupted his speech with applause and chants of "Balaraben Gwamna", "Uba Uban Kowa" and other slogans of praises, underscoring his administration's milestones.

Firstly, Governor Uba Sani unveiled his footprints in the Agricultural sector, an area where Kaduna State enjoys comparative advantage as the number one subnational in maize and ginger cultivation. Recently, the State made history by carrying out the largest free fertilizer distribution in Nigeria and women farmers were key beneficiaries of the exercise, he disclosed. The Governor has approved the "distribution of 500 trucks of fertilizer, out of which 240,000 bags has been distributed free to 120,000 smallholder farmers."

Besides, Kaduna State has "distributed vital inputs—high-quality seeds, fertilizers, agrochemicals, and farming equipment—to 41,693 smallholder farmers and cooperatives across all 23 LGAs," the Governor told the gathering. According to him, this initiative is a game-changer for our farmers, restoring their livelihoods and driving increased productivity across the state. In addition, the 'A Koma Gona' or Get Back to Farm Programme, has breathed new life into the agricultural sector.

Secondly, Governor Uba Sani held up his scorecard in women empowerment. "We have also recorded notable achievements in our Social Investment Programs. 65, 848 women, out of the total 70,051, benefitted from our

Conditional Cash Transfer Scheme," he disclosed at the summit. In addition, his administration has "ramped up the implementation of the Kaduna State Women Economic Empowerment Funds (KADSWEF)." According to the Governor, KADSWEF is a unique annual support initiative that provides access to financial resources for women. "We provided the sum of N200 million in the 2024 Budget for this Fund. So far, 10,786 women have benefitted from this Fund. Government is set to flag – off the 4.0 tranche distribution to more beneficiaries with women drawn from across women cooperative groups and associations," he added. Similarly, the poverty alleviation 'A Kori Talauchi' program has empowered 4,912 underserved women across the state.

Apart from disbursing funds, Kaduna State Government has "trained over 5,000 rural/semi urban women on large scale rice shelling using modern agricultural techniques in order to increase productivity, high input processing, profit, in addition to reducing labor cost, and improving quality of products." In addition, over 120 women and Adolescent Girls have been equipped with various Vocational and Entrepreneurship Development Skills.

Not that alone, Kaduna State has been supporting women business owners, apart from funding and training. The administration has supported about 100 food vendors at the Kaduna Food Festival 2024, which took place from April 11th to 14th 2024 at Murtala Square, Kaduna.

Uba Sani pushes worker-welfare agenda further:

free transport, higher wages, offsetting long-standing salary backlog

By Nasir Dambatta

Kaduna State erupted in jubilation as Governor Uba Sani announced a transformative N72,000 minimum wage, positioning the state at the forefront of worker welfare in Nigeria. This landmark policy is complemented by the governor's provision of 100 compressed natural gas (CNG) buses to offer free transportation for workers, relieving them of daily commute costs and reaffirming his administration's commitment to uplift Kaduna's workforce.

The announcement, made through a statement from the Governor's Chief Press Secretary, Malam Ibraheem Musa, highlights Governor Sani's proactive approach to addressing the socioeconomic challenges facing workers. This move is not only unprecedented but also a lifeline for civil servants, setting a new standard in the state's commitment to its workforce. For a state already gaining recognition under Sani's leadership, this development further cements Kaduna's status as a hub for progressive, people-centered governance.

Civil society leaders and workers' unions have lauded the initiative, recognizing its potential to transform lives. The N72,000 minimum wage demonstrates a clear commitment to bridging economic gaps and ensuring that the hardworking people of Kaduna can lead dignified lives. It's a decision that resonates with workers across the board, from young families looking to make ends meet to seasoned civil servants who have long awaited such a milestone.

The Free Transportation Scheme, an integral part of this welfare package, is a pioneering effort in Nigeria's public service sector. With 100 CNG buses set to roll out, the initiative promises to ease the financial burden on workers, making daily commutes efficient and cost-free. The program will be managed by a Joint Committee of labour representatives and state officials, ensuring a seamless implementation that reflects workers' needs and boosts productivity across sectors.

Governor Sani expressed his administration's unwavering commitment to "transforming the lives of the less privileged and positioning Kaduna State as a model for social welfare initiatives." This dual policy of increased wages and free transportation marks a bold shift toward a more inclusive and equitable Kaduna. Beyond its immediate economic impact, it reinforces the governor's vision of a thriving state, where no one is left behind in the pursuit of progress.

These groundbreaking reforms have rekindled hope and optimism in Kaduna. Governor Uba Sani's leadership is setting a new bar for governance that prioritizes the wellbeing of its people, making Kaduna a beacon for progressive change in Nigeria.

In the meantime, the Kaduna State Government plans to spend N93 billion over four years for the rehabilitation of the water sector in four tranches to address the neglect the sector has suffered over the past 10 years, the Commissioner for Public Works and Infrastructure, Arc Ibrahim Hamza, has said.

He said at a press briefing, that Governor Uba Sani has also directed the payment of all outstanding salaries and wages to the staff of the Kaduna State Water Corporation (KADSWAC), amounting to N800 million.

Arc Hamza further disclosed that the staff of KADSWAC

The Free Transportation Scheme, an integral part of this welfare package, is a pioneering effort in Nigeria's public service sector. With 100 CNG buses set to roll out, the initiative promises to ease the financial burden on workers, making daily commutes efficient and cost-free.

will be put back on the state's payroll until 2027, when the corporation must have fully stabilised to run as a commercial entity.

The commissioner recalled that the governor had earlier declared a state of emergency in the water sector three months ago, which led to the appointment of Engr Kabir Rufai as the substantive Managing Director of KADSWAC. "The corporation will collaborate with local governments to maintain generator operations. It will strengthen existing water laws to support corporate employment policy," he said.

According to him, Kaduna State is investing heavily in the rehabilitation and retrofitting of all water treatment plants and distribution mains, with an emphasis on sanitation and hygiene.

Arc Hamza pointed out that the N93 billion will be invested in four instalments, starting with N17 billion this year. He added that N35 billion will be invested next year, N30 billion in 2026 and N11 billion will be invested in 2027.

Uba Sani: Moving fast on all fronts

By Shuaibu Gimi

The stories about Kaduna State or, more precisely, the government of the state under Uba Sani are as quite multi-faceted as the areas in which achievements have been recorded. Each of the sectors in the state has been receiving its fair share of attention from the governor as a result of which success is becoming clearer by the day.

By consistently trying to expand the frontiers of governance through the introduction of new strategies and the modification of old ones, Uba Sani is truly living up to his designation and responsibility. A lot more people and places are speedily being covered by the activities of the State Government, which is a clear proof of the governor's determination to duly deliver dividends of democracy to the electorate.

So far, one fundamental thing or another has been either done or is still being done in each of the sectors for which the people of the state have continued to commend Governor Uba Sani as part of the acknowledgement of his effort towards the transformation of the state. The records of his performance have shown that he is a leader who is moving fast on all fronts.

The pace at which he discharges his responsibility, which continuously translates into the varying, yet impressive, phases of the projects in the various sectors and parts of the state is his own distinguishing feature. It is a style that has already attracted huge public attention to the state with numerous agencies, organizations and groups rating the state government very high.

As part of the recognition of the effort towards the revitalization of the education sector in Kaduna State, the Head of the World Bank Team on Adolescent Girls Child Initiative for Learning and Empowerment (AGILE), Aisha Garba, during a recent meeting with Governor Sani, lauded the completion of 40 out of 62 projects in post-primary schools and the resultant return of 300,000 students who earlier withdrew from such schools which is perfectly in line with the resolve of the state government to take 200,000 out-of-school children into the system. This is just an addition to some other achievements in the other sectors, all of which have translated into an overall development in Kaduna State.

Or how else can all those projects and programmes being executed in, for example, the health, agriculture, commerce, as well as science and technology sectors be explained? Are the supply of medical equipment to health facilities, particularly Primary Health Centres as well as commitment to the completion of the 300-bed hospital project at Millennium City, distribution of fertilizer to farmers at no cost to them, introduction of Comprehensive Climate Policy as a strategy for tackling environmental challenges and collaboration with Data Science Nigeria and some other relevant organizations for the purpose of training 5,000 women on ICT under the 'ArewaLadies4Tech' programme not an enough evidence of a full determination to carry out a transformation of the state?

The records of his performance have shown that he is a leader who is moving fast on all fronts. The pace at which he discharges his responsibility, which continuously translates into the varying, yet impressive, phases of the projects in the various sectors and parts of the state is his own distinguishing feature.

The women and youth's empowerment initiatives of Governor Sani are a morale booster to all those enterprising minds whose biggest desire is self-actualization. This desire is being satisfied by the governor who has already provided start-ups to thousands of people who are inclined to commerce and simple technological innovations thereby raising their economic status.

The launch of three key policy documents, namely; Women Economic Empowerment Policy, Women Peace and Security Action-plan as well as the Youths Peace and Security Action-plan during the recent Kaduna State Women Economic Empowerment Summit is perhaps the loudest statement on utmost priority the governor has attached to the security and welfare of the vulnerable groups. These policies will readily serve as vital tools for the maximization of the opportunities that women and youths can enjoy in a democratic setting.

Provision of lifeline to the tune of 800 million naira to the Kaduna State Water Corporation as part of the plan to overhaul the entire water sector has come as a big relief to the people of Kaduna State. It is, in fact, a clear indication of the governor's consideration of both the crippling challenges facing the agency and the compelling need to meet the demands of water consumers.

Happily, all of these efforts are being appreciated by a lot of concerned individuals and groups within and beyond the state including Vice President Kashim Shettima who, at a "Stakeholders Roundtable on Northern Nigerian Youth Development" recently organized by the Sir Ahmad Bello Memorial Foundation in Abuja, stated that Governor Uba Sani's approach "continues to inspire hope and unity among our youths." There can not be a stronger affirmation of all the other accolades that he has received so far over his inclusive and result-oriented style of governance than this statement.

KDSG eases land acquisition process for posterity - A news analysis

By Helen Kafoi

Land administration involves the coordination and administration of land-related policies, laws, and regulations, as well as the management of land records, mapping, and surveying. It also includes the processes and systems used to manage and regulate the use of land and natural resources of a particular area.

In Kaduna State, the Kaduna Geographic Information Service KADGIS has the sole responsibility of handling the afore mentioned roles” these, the Service is effectively doing to ensure efficient use of land resources across the state, secure land tenure and property rights and ensure sustainable development and environmental management.

Key components of the state land administration include; land registration and titling, land use planning and zoning, land valuation and taxation, surveying and mapping, land dispute resolution and conflict management and land information systems and data management.

The Kaduna Geographic Information Service provides quality and sustainable land use planning and administration in the State in line with the provisions of the Land Use Act Laws of Kaduna State and other relevant laws.

It is also saddled with the responsibility of ensuring the payments of ground rents yearly by all property owners across the state, ensuring upgrading existing settlements to a certain standard that will help in urban planning, population management and help existing structures to acquire their digital Certificate of Occupancy (CFO).

With advancement in the present day Kaduna State, the Service delivers modern, efficient and reliable land administration by providing secured and affordable land titles for all through the use of Geospatial Database and Base Map.

Hence, this has enabled it to offer titles to all occupants of land parcels within urban and rural areas, rural settlements, villages, and agricultural land through the Systematic Property Registration Programme (SPRP) to help individuals from low-income community obtain titles for their property as well as the recertification of all Statutory or Customary Rights of Occupancy within Kaduna State in both urban and rural land. The service has produced a total of 80,526 C of Os under the SPRP, however, only 28,007 have been collected indicating that a good number of C of Os are still there waiting for the owners to come and collect them, while recertification has executed 13,640 C of Os.

Currently ongoing is the Systematic Regularisation Programme where occupiers of properties within planned, undocumented layouts in the State are given opportunity to apply to regularise their ownership rights to obtain a new digital C-of-O after KADGIS and KASUPDA have reviewed and approved such layout. Also, there is the Regular Application for Right of Occupancy where an applicant who has never held a Right of Occupancy for any property he claims or occupies, can use this application process to obtain a new grant of Right of Occupancy and then the application for a Direct Allocation application of land, which from time to time the Kaduna State government considers for allocation to applicants”.

It is worthy of note that on assumption of office, the Governor, Senator Uba Sani graciously approved the downward review of the processing fee for the Recertification programme to N20,000.00 for those without assignment and 40,000.00 for those with assignment. Furthermore, in his kind response to the passionate appeals of holders of statutory right of occupancy, the Governor has incentivized it by extending the registration up to May 2025 and rescinded the penalties imposed on it to give room for title holders who were not able to register before to do so.

Also, on regularization, Sen.Uba Sani made a downward review on the penalty charges from the N500,000 being paid in the past to less than 50% of the fee. This is a deliberate gesture to ease the burden of occupiers of such areas for the regularization program to get titles for their property faster and at affordable fee. This is being implemented in phases for 25 urban areas across the state. Additionally, the Governor approved a 15 per cent discount on ground rent and land use charges for anyone who makes early payment as well as installment payment options for customers in high debt and a 20 per cent discount for advance payment for five years. Presently, a total of 4,089 offers have already been generated while over 5,000 plots of land have been allocated to public servants, individuals, political appointees and private business owners by the present administration.

As part of Governor Uba Sani's administrations efforts of upgrading existing settlements to a certain standard that will help in urban planning, population management, help existing structures to acquire their digital Certificate of Occupancy as well as also assist in providing information that will help in managing security challenges, the Kaduna State Government is creating layouts in the state. Thus, areas acquired by government for this development, the affected claimants are being compensated while affected owners of houses or properties in the area, are be integrated into such layouts. This is aimed at preventing any likelihood of land disputes by claimants of area where a layout is established and avoid the accumulation of unsettled compensations as the present administration is currently and gradually clearing up the backlog of compensations of areas acquired

Unnecessary government spending slows down development – Uba Sani

Being Governor Uba Sani's interview with newsmen shortly after he visited President Bola Ahmad Tinubu in Aso Rock Villa Abuja.

On borrowing for development

First of all, I want to assure you that since our inception one year and five months ago, we have not borrowed a penny from the government. The reason we have accomplished much in education, health, and infrastructure is our belief that the government can develop if unnecessary spending is reduced. Therefore, since we assumed office, no cars have been provided to anyone—from myself as governor to the deputy governor, commissioners, and members of parliament. The allowance given to the commissioners, advisers, and myself have been reduced. I have been receiving half of my salary since becoming the Governor of Kaduna State because we need to use our resources to benefit the community.

Insecurity incidents subsiding in Kaduna

Recently, I informed the president that the security situation in Kaduna State has improved. We have stood firm and collaborated with security forces, including the army, police, and DSS. We also engaged with stakeholders in Kaduna State, such as chiefs and religious leaders, and we all cooperated effectively. As you know, the security issue is not only for security officers; it should involve everyone if we want to see its end.

For example, I went to Birnin-Gwari last month to flag off off-road construction and other infrastructure projects, and was told that for more than 7-8 months, there has been no terrorist activity on the road from Kaduna to Birnin-Gwari. Previously, people were taken daily, but now this issue has subsided, and there is no problem.

On Kaduna's financial capability to sustain itself

Alhamdulillah, we are trying. Since our inception, 62 roads have been constructed, totalling 700 kilometres in length. Some of these projects have already been completed. Twelve out of thirty of our major local government hospitals have been demolished. We are constructing new ones and equipping them with modern facilities.

Additionally, we are building three vocational training centres, which are unique in this country. We have purchased 100 CNG buses to assist the community due to the current high living conditions, allowing civil servants to use these buses for free. We are undertaking these initiatives to support our community.

Last month, we also distributed 500 trailer loads of fertilizer to benefit 120,000 small farmers. Despite these works, we did not borrow a single Naira.

Universal healthcare coverage is my priority — Uba Sani

Governor Uba Sani has said that his vision is to build healthy communities where the poor and vulnerable have access to quality healthcare in Kaduna State.

The governor, who said that his administration is carrying out a surgical operation in the healthcare sector, pledged "to deliver to our people a healthcare system that addresses the needs of the citizens in the three levels of healthcare delivery.

"This vision is structured around five strategic objectives: enhancing health infrastructure, improving service delivery, strengthening human resources for health, ensuring the availability of essential medicines, and increasing sustainable health financing," he added.

Governor Uba Sani, who made this known at the commissioning of the remodelled Dabo Mohammed Lere Memorial Hospital, Saminaka, on Wednesday, said the event was "not just the transformation of a building but the fulfilment of our promise to the good people of Lere Local Government."

According to him, the commissioning aligns with the administration's broader initiative to renovate and upgrade secondary healthcare facilities throughout the state, ensuring that our healthcare system is robust, responsive, and ready to meet the needs of the people.

"The remodelled Dabo Mohammed Lere Memorial Hospital that we are gathered to commission will rank as one of the best equipped general hospitals in Nigeria," he said.

The Governor disclosed that the hospital has a General Outpatient Department (GOPD) and Pharmacy, a fully equipped administrative building, and a state-of-the-art dental clinic.

He also said that the Dabo Mohammed Lere Memorial Hospital boasts modern laboratory and radiology services as well as a comprehensive maternity complex, amongst other facilities.

"Our administration is dedicated to ensuring that every community has access to healthcare facilities that are not only functional but also equipped with modern amenities and technology to provide excellent care", he further said.

Reindustrialization of the North, key to youth restiveness – Northern Governors Forum

Being a communique of the Northern States Governors' Forum meeting with Chairmen of Northern States Council of Emirs and Chiefs held on monday 28th October, 2024 in Kaduna

A joint meeting of the Northern States Governors' Forum and Northern Traditional Rulers' Council (Emirs and Chiefs) was held Monday 28 October, 2024. The meeting was also briefed on the security challenges in the north by the Chief of Defence Staff, General Christopher Musa. The meeting deliberated extensively on matters of common interest and issued the following communique:

1. Forum extends its deepest sympathies to the victims of the recent flood disasters in Maiduguri and other parts of the North, as well as to the families affected by the tragic tanker explosion in Jigawa State. The Forum equally commiserates with other victims of terrorism, banditry and similar criminal activities in the North and Nigeria at large and stand in solidarity with them during these difficult times. We agreed to continue to work with the Federal Government and relevant agencies to provide the necessary support and relief to those affected.

2. Forum emphasises that Traditional Institutions are critical in the quest for lasting peace and security in the region. Forum also acknowledged their commitment in bridging the gap between the Government and the people. Forum advocates for increased roles for the Traditional Institutions to maximize cooperation with security agencies in the fight against kidnap for ransom, banditry, cattle rustling, communal clashes, farmers/herder clashes and other forms of criminality.

3. Forum acknowledges the recent gains made against criminals, especially the elimination of bandits and terror leaders. However, we resolved to sustain these gains in order to ensure lasting peace and stability in the sub-region. Forum commended the Federal Government and security agencies for their commitment in ensuring that our communities are safe and secure. Particularly we commend the untiring commitment of the Chief of Defence Staff General C. J Musa whose professionalism and innovative approach has made difference in security architecture of the Country at large. Nevertheless, more need to be done to address pockets of challenges that abound in the Northern Region.

4. With the recent "End Bad Governance" protests that took place in August, the Forum resolved to scale up efforts to tackle the root causes of youth restiveness by investing in education, skills development, job creation and pathways for the youth to channel their energy into productive ventures, thereby reducing their vulnerability to crime and social vices.

5. Forum resolves to call on the Federal Government and relevant Agencies to urgently address the current electricity power blackout affecting most of the Northern States due to vandalization of electricity transmission infrastructure. This matter not only underscores the vulnerability of critical infrastructure, but also the need to build additional transmission lines and diversify our energy supply so as to better connect our region and improve our energy resilience.

6. Forum agrees that Northern Nigeria holds immense agricultural potentials, which, if fully harnessed, can significantly alleviate hunger and boost economic growth. To achieve this, we resolved to provide adequate support to our farmers, including access to financing, modern farming techniques and infrastructure such as roads and irrigation systems. Agriculture should not only be seen as a means to feed our people but also as a catalyst for industrialization and job creation across the region. That can be achieved through re-industrialisation of the North especially by reviving the textile value chain and development of other agro-allied industries.

7. Forum commends His Excellency, the President and Commander-In-Chief of the Armed Forces of the Federal Republic of Nigeria for the reform initiative in the livestock sub-sector and agreed to provide the necessary political will and commitment to ensure the success of the Federal Government livestock development initiatives. The Forum also agreed to sustain engagement and cross-fertilization of ideas with the Presidential Livestock Reforms Implementation Committee to achieve greater results.

Sultan cautions against sermons that discourage female education

In a significant move to address the challenges of girls' education in Northwest Nigeria, traditional and religious leaders met at the Yar'Adua Hall in Kaduna for a one-day conference focused on improving adolescent girls' education access and completion rates in the region.

The Sultan of Sokoto, His Eminence Muhammad Sa'ad Abubakar, who was the special guest of honour, strongly advocated for girls' education, emphasizing that it aligns with Islamic teachings. He cautioned religious leaders against delivering misleading sermons that discourage girl-child education, stating that the Holy Quran encourages girl child education and emphasized that society stands to benefit when all its citizens are educated.

Deputy Governor Dr. Hadiza Sabuwa Balarabe, representing Governor Senator Uba Sani, revealed alarming statistics from the World Bank showing that Nigeria has one of the highest out-of-school populations globally, with 12-15 million school-age children currently not receiving education. The situation has been further complicated by security challenges in the North-West region, with an estimated one million children directly impacted by insecurity in 2020-

His Eminence Sultan of Sokoto

2021 alone.

Dr. Balarabe highlighted the significant role of the Adolescent Girls Initiative for Learning and Empowerment (AGILE) program, supported by the World Bank. The program, which initially covered seven states with a $500 million credit incentive, has recently expanded to include eleven more states with an additional $700 million approved in September 2023. This expansion aims to reach more out-of-school girls, including married girls and those living with disabilities.

"Education and skills are transformative tools essential for closing gender gaps, especially in economic and political empowerment, and for achieving Nigeria's full potential," stated Dr. Balarabe. She emphasized that with women comprising more than 49% of Nigeria's population, their educational needs cannot be ignored.

The conference brought together emirs and royal chiefs from northwestern states, religious leaders from both Muslim and Christian communities, educationists, academics, and government officials. The gathering focused on addressing various challenges facing girls' education, including gender-based violence, poverty, and cultural practices that act as barriers to educational access.

The Deputy Governor called on traditional and religious leaders to use their influential positions in communities to advocate for girl-child education and help remove cultural and economic barriers.

The conference marked a crucial step in the region's commitment to ensuring that every girl has the opportunity to receive quality education and reach her full potential.

KDSG hosts six states on learning journey

By Hauwa Mohammed

The Kaduna State Universal Basic Education Board (KADSUBEB), led by the Acting Executive Chairman Mallam Mubarak Mohammed played host to stakeholders from Zamfara, Niger, Katsina, Jigawa, Oyo, and Lagos states, as well as the Foreign And Commonwealth Development Office FCDO representative Dr. Mikailu Ibrahim, Director Teacher Development, UBEC Mr. Aleshin and the TaRL Country Director Hafsat Hamza. The team was on a visit aimed gaining insights into how the Kaduna State Teaching at the Right Level (KadTaRL) program has positively impacted foundational learning for the over 30,000 children across 300 schools in three Local Government Education Authorities (LGEAs) of the state.

KadTaRL was launched in 2022 with a pilot in Ikara LGA, dedicated to enhancing children's foundational learning and skills by providing tailored, effective learning support. Through this program, Kaduna State aims to continue to champion improved learning outcomes for all.

KDSG floats one billion naira loan for teachers

The Kaduna State government has introduced a N1 billion loan initiative designed to support primary and secondary school teachers in advancing their education.

This was announced by the Executive Secretary of the Kaduna State Scholarship and Loans Board, Malam Yahaya Ibrahim, during the 2nd Annual National Conference organized by the National Teachers' Institute in Kaduna. According to Malam Ibrahim, the scheme aims to help teachers without degrees further their studies. The loan program intends to encourage teachers to pursue higher education, addressing concerns about their reluctance to do so, he added.

Malam Ibrahim also disclosed that discussions were underway with international institutions to offer additional opportunities for teachers to study abroad.

The initiative he said was part of a broader effort to improve the quality of education in the state adding that in addition to the loan scheme, the ES revealed that the board has already sent 50 female students abroad to study cybercrime and ICT-related fields. He said that the board also offers skills training for primary school pupils, preparing them for self-reliance in the future.

Malam Ibrahim commended the National Teachers' Institute for its efforts in organizing the conference and reiterated the state's commitment to collaborating towards training more educators to enhance the state's educational standards.

KDSG Promises Jobs, skills for released Kaduna protesters

Following President Bola Ahmed Tinubu's directives for the release of minors charged with treason for participating in protests against bad governance, Kaduna State Governor Uba Sani has ordered the safe evacuation of the vulnerable children, directing the Ministry of Human Services and Social Development to reunite them with their families.

Deputy Governor Dr. Hadiza Sabuwa Balarabe personally supervised their transfer to the Kaduna Foster Home on Katuru Road, marking a compassionate step towards healing and reintegration of the young individuals caught in the turmoil of societal unrest.

Governor Uba Sani in the meantime has promised to rehabilitate and empower the released protesters from Kaduna State, if they turned a new leaf and become responsible and law abiding members of the society.

Speaking to journalists after the protesters were released, the Secretary to Kaduna State Government, Dr Abdulkadir Muazu Meyere said that the Governor has asked him to receive the credentials of those who have completed their tertiary education.

"The Governor promised that some of them will be given start-up capitals to commence trading, others will be taught skills and some will be given employment," he added.

Gov Uba Sani, Deputy Gov Dr Hadiza Sabuwa Balarabe and Commissioner of Human Services, and Social Dev. Hajiya Rabi Salisu (all standing in the middle) with the freed Kaduna protesters.

The Secretary to the State Government however said that the government will be tracking the activities and conduct of all 39 of them, to ensure that they are of good behaviour "before these benefits will be extended to them."

Dr Meyere disclosed that Kaduna State Government has taken the details of the released detainees, which include contact addresses, telephone numbers and names of their next of kins, for easy tracking and monitoring.

According to him, the detainees were all medically examined and given psycho-social counselling on the need to change for the better, in order to be useful to themselves and the society at large.

"Both Islamic and Christian religious leaders preached to them to embrace the teachings of their faiths and to avoid bad company, so as to benefit from God's blessings here and in the hereafter," the SSG added.

According to him, the detainees were given a telephone each because they lost their own during detention and "the Governor has graciously given each of them N100,000 as a measure of goodwill."

Dr Meyere also said that the detainees have been transported back to their various homes.

KDSG eases land acquisition acquired by government for this development, the affected claimants are being compensated while affected owners of houses or properties in the area, are being integrated into such layouts. This is aimed at preventing any likelihood of land disputes by claimants of area where a layout is established and avoid the accumulation of unsettled compensations as the present administration is currently and gradually clearing up the backlog of compensations of areas acquired by government since 2017.

All these that government is doing is to enhance social and economic growth, improve the livelihoods of individuals and communities and minimize land conflicts and disputes across the state thereby encouraging harmonious coexistence across the state.

Also, to ensure improved and quality service delivery,

Kaduna State Government is also digitizing and upgrading the activities of the Service which will expedite the processing of titles and enable clients make various payment from anywhere in the world as well as enhance security of public documents. These demonstrates a transformative change in the service and promises a brighter future for claimants and property owners in the state as new innovations are being initiated into KADGIS by the Director General, Dr. Bashir Garba Ibrahim, whose unique creativity and passion for excellence has stimulated more commitment in the personnel for improvement in productivity. this is to expected considering the exemplary leadership of the Governor, Senator Uba Sani who has been earing a legacy for sustainable development across agencies of the state for economic prosperity of the state.

Uba Sani aids rescue of 58 kidnap victims in Kaduna

At least 58 people who were kidnapped by bandits in Birnin Gwari local government Area of Kaduna State have been released.

They were released at about 3pm on Thursday, November 14, 2024, through the non-kinetic arrangement facilitated by the state Governor, Senator Uba Sani, in collaboration with the office of the National Security Adviser (NSA).

This was a significant operation, especially considering the surge in kidnappings in the area.

The General Officer Commanding (GOC) the One Mechanised Division, Major General Mayirenso Saraso, led the Joint rescue mission, demonstrating Governor Sani's administration's commitment to tackling insecurity in Kaduna State using non-kinetic approach in collaboration with security agencies.

Upon their release, the rescued victims mainly children and women were taken to the office of the National Security Adviser, Nuhu Ribadu for debriefing after having undergone medical checkup. They were later handed over to the chief of Defence Staff, General Christopher Musa who in turn handed them over to Governor Uba Sani, represented by his Chief of Staff, Alhaji Sani Liman Kila.

In an interview with newsmen, the Chief of Staff to the state Governor, Alhaji Sani Liman Kila, thanked President Bola Ahmed Tinubu, the NSA and the Military for their unwavering support and untiring efforts towards tackling insecurity in Kaduna and the North West Zone

He said: "I just want to thank the president and commander in chief of the Armed Forces of Nigeria, President Bola Tinubu, the NSA, all the security agencies and most importantly the Governor of Kaduna State, Senator Uba Sani. He actually deserves accolades because he did a lot to ensure the release of the victims. I want to also thank the religious leaders and traditional institutions for their support, because security is everyone's business. Let's team up and fight this insecurity".

Handing over the rescued victims to the representative of Governor Uba Sani, the Chief of Defence Staff, General Christopher Musa, said the victims sustained injuries and were treated upon their release. "Six of them had serious case and were treated. They were all fed well, clothed properly before being presented here. And so, we hand over to you and we say thank you to His Excellency," he said. KDSG denies sale of land to Rarara

The purported letter of allocation selling a landed property to one Dauda Rarara currently being circulated on social media is fake and is a clear case of the misuse of enhanced ICT.

It is important to clarify that no property belonging to the Kaduna State Government has been sold to Dauda Rarara by the current administration.

A simple fact-check reveals that this document was generated using new media technology.

The individuals spreading this fake news aim to tarnish the image of Kaduna State Government, but their efforts have been swiftly debunked by netizens.

The administration of Senator Uba

Sani remains focused on serving the people of Kaduna State, including the poor, vulnerable populations, women, youth, and individuals with special needs.

No smear campaign will therefore tarnish Governor Uba Sani's record of service to humanity, a government statement said.

Ministry of Justice revitalizes legal research, expands library resources

Hadiza Oyiza Ismail

In a significant stride toward enhancing legal research and service delivery in Kaduna State, the Ministry of Justice, under the visionary leadership of the Attorney General and Commissioner for Justice, Sule Shu'aibu, SAN, has equipped its library with a robust collection of updated law books and resources.

This initiative aligns with the Commissioner's commitment to fostering a culture of excellence in legal practice and providing the necessary tools for lawyers to perform their duties with precision and expertise.

The Ministry's newly acquired resources include 40 sets of various volumes of seminal legal texts and over 300 copies of essential handbooks and specialized legal publications, addressing a wide spectrum of legal disciplines. These acquisitions encompass:

- Laws of the Federation of Nigeria
- Nigeria Weekly Law Reports
- Intellectual Property Law Reports
- Nigeria Practice and Procedure Cases
- Compendium of Nigerian Case Laws

Additional materials include handbooks on Police Procedure, updated Supreme Court and Federal High Court rules, and specialized texts on Electoral Law, Homicide, the Defence of Alibi, Litigation, Defamation, Evidence, Confessional Statements, Libel, Labor Law and Practice, among others. With coverage spanning over 50 different areas of legal practice, this comprehensive library upgrade positions the Ministry as a hub for cutting-edge legal research and advocacy in the region.

Speaking on the development, Hon. Sule Shu'aibu, SAN, expressed his dedication to equipping legal practitioners with the tools they need to deliver justice efficiently and uphold the rule of law.

“The legal profession thrives on knowledge, and an updated library is an indispensable resource for any lawyer. By acquiring these books, we are not only supporting our lawyers in their work but also strengthening the justice system in Kaduna State. These resources will serve as a foundation for thorough research, informed decision-making, and effective legal representation,” the Commissioner remarked.

The Commissioner further emphasized the Ministry's resolve to continue investing in initiatives that bolster the capacity of its personnel.

“This is just the beginning of our broader agenda to transform the legal landscape of Kaduna State. We are committed to ensuring that our lawyers have access to the best resources, enabling them to compete on a national and global level.”

This transformative initiative underscores the Kaduna State Government's unwavering commitment, under the visionary leadership of the Governor, Sen. Uba Sani, to enhancing institutional efficiency and ensuring justice is accessible, fair, and swift for all citizens.

Free fertiliser distribution.....

The Governor maintained that this initiative is a game-changer for our farmers, restoring their livelihoods and driving increased productivity across the state.

"We have also recorded notable achievements in our Social Investment Programs. 65, 848 women, out of the total 70,051, benefitted from our Conditional Cash Transfer Scheme," he said.

A statement by the Chief Press Sectretary to the Governor Mallam Ibrahim Musa said that Governor Uba Sani also disclosed that his administration had "ramped up the implementation of the Kaduna State Women Economic Empowerment Funds (KADSWEF)."

According to him, KADSWEF is a unique annual support initiative that provides access to financial resources for women.

"We provided the sum of N200 million in the 2024 Budget for this Fund. So far, 10,786 women have benefitted from this Fund. Government is set to flag – off the 4.0 tranche distribution to more beneficiaries with women drawn from across women cooperative groups and associations," he added.

The Governor said that his administration has "trained over 5,000 rural/ semi urban women on large scale rice shelling using modern agricultural techniques in order to increase productivity, high input processing, profit, in addition to reducing labor cost, and improving quality of products."

Governor Uba Sani said that over 120 women and Adolescent Girls have been equipped with various Vocational and Entrepreneurship Development Skills.

He explained that his administration is investing in women because doing so is investing in not just in the economy but the future of Kaduna State, adding that the government "is set to intensify efforts in strategic areas towards improving the state's economic landscape."

According to him, Kaduna State is known for its strong commitment to financial inclusion as evident in relevant programs and outreaches.

"The Kaduna State Government, through the Kaduna State Enterprise Development Agency (KADEDA), supported 8,649 nano and micro businesses with grants to expand their business operations," he said, adding that the support ranged from N300,000, N200,000, N150,000, N100,000, to N50,000.

Governor Uba Sani added that the poverty alleviation 'A Kori Talauchi' program has empowered 4,912 underserved women across the state."

"Furthermore, the Kaduna State Government supported another 100 food vendors at the Kaduna Food Festival 2024, which took place from April 11th to 14th 2024 at Murtala Square, Kaduna.

"The festival was a vibrant celebration of the rich culinary diversity of Kaduna and Northern Nigeria, designed to showcase a spectrum of local culinary art and street food.

"The festival attracted more than 2,000 guests daily, providing women with the platform to showcase their local businesses," he added.

The Governor promised to continue supporting women entrepreneurs through "the Kaduna State Enterprise Development Agency (KADEDA) and by strengthening cooperative societies to provide women with access to credit and financial resources necessary for starting and expanding businesses."

He explained that KADEDA will also create incubators and innovation hubs, offering resources, mentorship, and networking opportunities for women entrepreneurs. It will provide training in business management, digital literacy, and marketing to help women grow their businesses.

Governor Uba Sani who launched the Kaduna State Women Economic Empowerment Policy, alongside the Women Peace and Security Action Plan, and Youth Peace and Security Action Plan, thanked Development Partners for their commitment and expertise while partnering with his administration.

The Governor called on the private sector, development organizations, community leaders, and every citizen to take ownership of this agenda, arguing that "When women succeed, we all succeed."

"Let us create a Kaduna State where every girl knows she has the right and the means to dream and achieve, and where every woman knows that she is valued, supported, and celebrated," he added.

Governor Uba Sani was given the title of Champion of Gender Equality and Women Economic Empowerment.

"The festival was a vibrant celebration of the rich culinary diversity of Kaduna and Northern Nigeria, designed to showcase a spectrum of local culinary art and street food.

"The festival attracted more than 2,000 guests daily, providing women with the platform to showcase their local businesses," he added.

Stakeholders laud Uba Sani's N33bn vote for roads completion

A group, under the aegis of Uba Sani Legacy Projects Solidarity Assembly (ULEPSA), has lauded Kaduna State Governor, Senator Uba Sani, for his historic commitment to completing unfinished road projects inherited from his predecessor, as well as approving an N800 million payment overdue as staff welfare at the Kaduna State Water Corporation (KADSWAC). The group made this known in Kaduna in a media statement signed by its Director of Strategic Communication, Comrade Musa Garba Kachia. They explained that the governor's allocation of a whopping 33 billion naira to finish key infrastructure projects not only addresses governance continuity but also fosters economic growth and restores public trust. "This strategic move is a bold statement of leadership that prioritizes citizens' needs over politics."

They also noted that the approval for staff welfare, which has been pending for over a decade, is expected to boost morale and enhance operational efficiency at KADSWAC.

ULEPSA, in the statement, commended the efforts as a clear demonstration of Governor Uba Sani's dedication to the sustainable development of Kaduna State.

The group, urged politicians in the country to borrow a leaf from Senator Uba Sani's ability to "put the people and development projects above politics," describing the governor's latest actions as "breaking away from the inglorious past culture of elected leaders abandoning predecessors' legacies for selfish political reasons".

Universal healthcare ...

According to the Governor, the vision is structured around five strategic objectives: enhancing health infrastructure, improving service delivery, strengthening human resources for health, ensuring the availability of essential medicines, and increasing sustainable health financing.

The Governor Uba Sani administration has embarked on the remodelling, equipping and upgrading of 13 General Hospitals in the 3 Senatorial Zones of the State. Those named below which will be completed and commissioned in a few weeks are in Phase 1, Phase 2 of the project will involve additional 13 General Hospitals.

- General Hospital Gwantu, Sanga LGA
- General Hospital Rigasa, Igabi LGA
- General Hospital Maigana, Soba LGA
- Patrick Ibrahim Yakowa/Kafanchan General Hospital, Jemaa
- General Hospital Giwa, Giwa LGA

- General Hospital Ikara, Ikara LGA
 - General Hospital Sabon Tasha, Chikun LGA
 - General Hospital Kachia, Kachia LGA
 - General Hospital Saminaka, Lere LGA
 - Limi General Hospital, Sabon Gari LGA
 - Yusuf Dantsoho General Hospital, K/South
 - General Hospital Kawo, Kaduna North
 - General Hospital Kaura, Kaura LGA
- The Governor Uba Sani administration is committed to ensuring that every community has access to healthcare facilities that are not only functional but also equipped with modern amenities and technology, as well as qualified medical professionals to provide excellent care. According to him, Healthcare is a fundamental right, and it is a duty to ensure that this right is upheld in every corner of Kaduna State.

Reindustrialization of the North.....

8. Forum acknowledges the fact that climate change has greatly affected our environment resulting in the recent flood incidents in many parts of the North and therefore resolved to partner with the Federal Government and other stakeholders to build irrigation infrastructure like canals and waterways to divert excess water and channel them towards irrigation activities, thus enhancing rural livelihoods and safeguarding food security.

9. Forum agrees to support and key-in to any initiative aimed at addressing the challenges of out-of-school-children and improving educational outcomes in the sub-region.

10. Forum notes with dismay the content of the recent Tax Reform Bill that was forwarded to the National Assembly. The contents of the bill are against the interests of the north and other sub-nationals especially the proposed amendment to the distribution of Value Added Tax (VAT) to Derivation-based Model. This is because companies remit VAT using location of their headquarters and tax office and not where the services and goods are consumed. In view of the foregoing, the Forum unanimously rejects the proposed Tax Amendments and calls on members of National Assembly to oppose any bill that can jeopardise the well-being of our people.

11. For the avoidance of doubt, the Northern Governor' Forum is not averse to any policies or programmes that will ensure the growth and development of the Country. However, the Forum calls for equity and fairness in the implementation of all national policies and programmes so as to ensure that no geopolitical zone is short-changed or marginalised.

12. On the present economic hardship affecting the Country, the Forum is appealing to all citizens to remain calm, as the states and Federal Government are working hard to implement measures that will cushion effects of the hardship.

KDSG reiterates commitment to basic education

By Hauwa Mohammed

Kaduna State Government is committed to transforming education delivery and ensuring equitable access to quality education to all citizens, irrespective of ethno-religious or party affiliations, acting Executive Chairman of Kaduna State Universal Basic Education Board (KADSUBEB), Malam Mubarak Mohammed, has said. He gave this commitment at the last annual review meeting of the Partnership for Learning for All in Nigeria (PLANE).

Malam Mubarak said that Governor Uba Sani has recorded significant milestones in the education sector since he assumed office, adding that the Gov has laudable plans for the people of Kaduna State.

The Chairman expressed confidence that the insights and recommendations from the review would shape strategies to improve foundational skills for children across the state.

The meeting brought together key stakeholders and partners to evaluate the progress, challenges, and milestones achieved in strengthening the education system in Kaduna State.

Malam Mubarak said that the PLANE programme will continue to serve as a cornerstone of Kaduna State's efforts to build a robust and inclusive education system, demonstrating the impact of collaborative efforts in addressing systemic challenges and enhancing learning outcomes for all children.

PLANE is a seven-year programme supported by the UK Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO), dedicated to improving foundational learning outcomes and enhancing the quality of education in Kaduna, Kano and Jigawa States.

It collaborates with KADSUBEB, the Kaduna State Ministry of Education, the Kaduna State Bureau of Statistics, and the Kaduna State Schools Quality Assurance Authority to promote data-driven decision-making, enhance teaching methodologies, and refine assessments for foundational learning.

Stakeholders at the review meeting included Dr. Mikailu Ibrahim, Education Advisor (Window 2); Ms. Kate Ross, FCDO Education Advisor (UK); Mr. Joseph Wales, Education Advisor (Window 3); Mrs. Julia Patrick-Ogbu, PLANE Programme Manager; and the PLANE State Focal Person, Madam Diana Agabi, along with her team.

The session provided a platform to assess the progress made towards achieving the programme's objectives, share insights, and discuss strategies to overcome challenges and optimize outcomes.

KDSG's scorecard in the health sector

By Affiong Edim

Over the period that he has been in office, the Governor of Kaduna State, Senator Uba Sani has demonstrated unwavering commitment to safeguarding the health of the residents of Kaduna State. This commitment is evident in various reforms and developments in the health sector which also align with the SUSTAIN Agenda of his administration.

Since taking office on May 29, 2023, Governor Sani has embarked on a mission to revolutionize the healthcare delivery in Kaduna State through the SUSTAIN Agenda emphasizing the importance of investing in human capital development.

The Governor's health sector vision is to achieve Universal Health Coverage and promote healthy lives for all residents of Kaduna State. The Universal health coverage ambassador has deliberately structured this vision around five strategic objectives:

- (1) enhancing health infrastructure
- (2) improving service delivery
- (3) strengthening human resources for health
- (4) ensuring the availability of essential medicines, and
- (5) increasing sustainable health financing.

In the area of Infrastructure Development he has initiated an ambitious program to complete and inaugurate the 300-bed specialist hospital at millennium city before the end of 2024 precisely in the last quarter of 2024. The commissioning of the three hundred bed Hospital will revolutionize the health care, reduce medical tourism, and equip the state of-the-art oncology centre for research, diagnosis, and treatment of cancers.

Kaduna State investment in health infrastructure cuts across the spectrum of the primary, secondary and tertiary facilities in the state. Consequently, the government is currently upgrading 9 General Hospitals – 3 in each senatorial district. In addition, thirty high-volume primary healthcare facilities are being upgraded into "centres of excellence," ensuring that residents, particularly in rural areas, have access to modern healthcare services. The completion of these thirty facilities exemplifies the commitment of the Governor's commitment to improving health infrastructure, which directly enhances the quality of care to the people of Kaduna State.

In its efforts to elevate health service delivery, the Kaduna State Government has distributed modern medical equipment to 290 upgraded PHCs, significantly boosting their capacity to provide quality care.

In addition, the Government has engaged 1,354 Community Health Influencers, Promoters and Service Providers (CHIPS) agents across 14 Local Government Areas, which has extended the healthcare services closer to the people.

The initiatives in maternal and child health have touched many lives, with over two million children having received Vitamin A supplements and more than 300,000 women and children benefiting from various reproductive, maternal, newborn, child, and adolescent health interventions.

At a recent interaction with the media where the strides of the Ministry of Health were highlighted, the indefatigable commissioner in charge of the ministry, Hajiya Umma K. Ahmed disclosed for instance that in recent time, Kaduna State Government has maintained low vaccine stock-out rates, achieving over 90% coverage during Supplemental Immunization Activities (SIAs), ensuring that children grow up healthy and protected.

In its commitment to vulnerable communities, the present Government has reached over 18,500 individuals with primary healthcare interventions in nine security-compromised Local Government Areas and successfully vaccinated over 102,000 eligible children during special interventions. This focused outreach demonstrates the Government's dedication to ensuring that even the most marginalized populations have access to essential healthcare services.

In its cautious service delivery efforts, the commitment to vulnerable communities, the state government has digitized 95% of State Primary Healthcare Board (SPHCB) staff data, marking a significant shift towards modernizing the health system management. This innovation enhances the ability to monitor and improve service delivery, for the health benefit of the citizens of Kaduna State.

In the area of substance abuse, Government has established 17 PHC-based Drop-In Centers which provided screening, brief intervention, counselling, supportive care interventions and referral services for substance use disorders and mental ill health to 2,095 people.

These achievements reflect Governor Uba Sani's vision, political will, and the tireless efforts of Kaduna State's health team led by Hajia Umma to ensure the well-being of residents in the State. Kaduna State Ministry of Health will continue to build on these successes, as it priorities for 2024-2027 will focus on enhancing service delivery, strengthening human resources, ensuring the availability of medicines, and securing sustainable health financing with the overall goal to reduce maternal and child mortality in Kaduna State. These deliverables that ensure Kaduna state sustains programmes it has rolled out in the health sector aimed at safeguarding a healthy citizens even under the dire national economy

FCDO supports Kaduna to enhance education quality

By Halima Sadiya Abubakar

In line with Governor Uba Sani's Transformational Agenda, the Kaduna State Schools Quality Assurance Authority (KSSQAA) recently hosted a high-level delegation from the UK's Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO). The delegation comprised Kate Ross, Julia Patrick-Ogbu, Joseph Wales, and guest of honor Dr. Mikailu Ibrahim, alongside the Kaduna State PLANE team led by Ms. Diana Agabi.

This strategic engagement centered on evaluating the impact of FCDO's Partnership for Learning for All in Nigeria (PLANE) programme and collaboratively charting a forward-looking strategy for Kaduna State's education sector.

As the UK's lead agency for international development, the FCDO initiated PLANE to strengthen education systems by enhancing governance, teaching quality, and learning outcomes. In Kaduna State, PLANE has made notable contributions, including:

Support for Non-State Schools

- # Development of the Non-State Schools Policy and tax guidelines.
- # Design and implementation of School Improvement Plans (SIPs).
- # Training of non-state school managers in Education Management Information Systems (EMIS).
- # Mapping both registered and unregistered schools.
- # Sensitization of school proprietors on KSSQAA's mandate.

Systemic Interventions

- v Conducting graded assessments in public and private schools.
- v Capacity-building for over 3,000 teachers and school quality assurance evaluators.
- v Establishing an ICT Innovation Hub within the Quality Assurance Authority headquarters.
- v Digitalizing school monitoring tools to improve education quality and efficiency.

Prof. Usman Abubakar Zaria, Director-General of KSSQAA, expressed profound appreciation for FCDO's unwavering support through PLANE. He emphasized that stakeholder collaboration is key to achieving sustainable reforms in the education sector.

Prof. Abubakar Zaria lauded Governor Senator Uba Sani's visionary leadership in creating an enabling environment for development partners to thrive. He also recognized the exceptional contributions of Education Commissioner Prof. Muhammad Sani Bello and the steadfast professional oversight of Deputy Governor Dr. Hadiza Sabuwa Balarabe.

This productive engagement highlights the Governor Uba Sani administration's commitment to revolutionizing education in Kaduna State. With the steadfast partnership of FCDO/PLANE and KSSQAA, Kaduna is poised to achieve significant educational milestones, ensuring brighter prospects for its students and setting a foundation for long-term sustainable growth.

Uba Sani pushes worker-welfare ...

In another development, Staff of the Kaduna State Water Corporation and their relatives have praised Governor Uba Sani for being magnanimous enough to clear the backlog of their N800 million salary arrears.

Speaking to journalists Wednesday, some staff who do not want to be named, said that nonpayment of salaries preceded the coming of his administration but the past government did not address the problem.

They said that the Governor could have chosen to sweep the matter under the carpet but he decided to address the issue once and for all, adding that "he has shown that he has the milk of human kindness in him..

"Judging from his policies and programmes, Governor Uba Sani has demonstrated that he has the plight of workers and the common man at heart. His rural transformation programme and the revamping of the education sector, as well as healthcare show that he is a people's Governor," one female staff said.

It will be recalled that the Commissioner of Public Works and Infrastructure, Arc Ibrahim Hamza, has said that the Governor had directed that the backlog of the salaries of KADSWAC staff will be cleared in four tranches.

According to him, Kaduna State is investing heavily on the rehabilitation and retrofitting of all water treatment plants and distribution mains, with emphasis on sanitation and hygiene.

The Commissioner of Works further disclosed that "previous administrations invested $500 million into the urban water supply scheme in the last 10 years with no result."

"Rather, capacity utilisation dropped down from 43% in 2017 to 8% in 2023 with 5% coverage," he added.

According to Arc Hamza, the refund of N17.2 billion was not duly utilised by the previous administration and institutional reforms culminated in redundancy and laying off of skilled staff.

'Why Sexual Offenders Registry is necessary'

By Firdausi Ahmed Wakili

Kaduna State Government has said that the aim of the Sex Offenders Database is to name and shame convicts and that already, over 37 persons have so far been convicted.

The Director of Special Investigations, Mr Ayiku Thomas, disclosed this at a training on "Pathways to Inclusive Justice on Gender-Based Violence", which held at Holiday Conference Hotel, Kaduna.

Mr Thomas who is the lead for the Sexual Offenders Registry and Database in the Ministry of Justice, further said that the aim of making the information accessible to everyone is to curb the problem.

The training was organised by Kaduna State Government, in collaboration with Hadis Foundation, with the High-Level Multi-Agency Task Force, known as HI-MAT, and the Service Provider Accountability Response Committee (SPARC), essential for the establishment of the registry and database for sexual offenders.

Speaking at the training, Rashida Mahmud, the Chief Operating Officer of Hadis Foundation, said "we have successfully established Sexual Assault Referral Centres (SARCs) operational in Kwara State."

"In 2020, we worked on popularising the Violence Against Persons Prohibition Law (VAPP) in states like Kaduna and Kwara. We are now collaborating with the Ministry of Education to promote gender equity and social inclusion across the three senatorial districts," she added.

The Sexual Offenders Database (SOD) will serve as a public register containing profiles of convicted sex offenders in the state, aimed at deterring potential perpetrators by increasing accountability.

This initiative aligns with the National Sexual Offenders Register under Nigeria's National Agency for the Prohibition of Trafficking Persons (NAPTIP).

The launch of the Sexual Offenders Database is anticipated to significantly impact the fight against sexual violence in Kaduna State, paving the way for a safer environment for all citizens.

SUBEB showcases Kaduna State in Kenya

By Hauwa Mohammed

The Ag. Executive Chairman of the Kaduna State Universal Basic Education Board (SUBEB), Mallam Mubarak Mohammed, represented Kaduna State at the 2024 TaRL Africa Conference in Nairobi, Kenya.

The panel, featuring renowned education policymakers and development experts, discussed the complexities of scaling impactful educational programs like Teaching at the Right Level (TaRL). The discussions focused on the challenges governments face in decision-making and implementation and the strategies for building robust systems to support improving learning outcomes for children.

The TaRL Africa Conference is a premier platform that brings together global education stakeholders to exchange ideas, share best practices, and strengthen partnerships for scaling transformative educational initiatives. This year's theme underscores the critical need for collaborative efforts between governments, development partners, and communities to drive systemic change.

Kaduna State has been at the forefront of foundational education reform. The recent scale-up of the TaRL programme to six additional Local Government Areas of Zaria, Lere, Kaduna North, Igabi, Sanga and Jema'a, targeting over 350,000 learners and about 7,000 teachers, demonstrates the state's resolve to provide equitable access to quality education and to build a resilient system that empowers every child with the foundational skills needed for success.

Northern religious agencies strategize on climate change, peace and security

By Abubakar Abdullahi

The Kaduna State Bureau of Interfaith in collaboration with International Alert, held a three-day regional conference to address Climate Change-induced conflicts in Northern Nigeria. The conference held from Monday 4th-5th November 2024 in Kaduna.

The conference was the first of its kind that attracted top religious clerics from different parts of the Northern States, coordinated by the Director General Bureau of Interfaith Barr. Tahir Umar Tahir, under the SUSTAIN Agenda of Governor Uba Sani.

The DG Interfaith explained that the Conference was aimed at bringing together key stakeholders from the 19th Northern States such as government officials, traditional and religious leaders, academics, civil Society organisations and international experts, to discuss and develop strategies to mitigate impact of climate change on peace and security in the region.

The Chairman of the occasion was Malam Mahmud Yayale Ahmad former Head of Service of the Federation and former Secretary to the Government of the Federation, while Father of the day was His Eminence Alh. Muhammad Sa'ad Abubakar Sultan of Sokoto, with most Rev. Dr D.C Okoh President Christian Association of Nigeria CAN among prominent guests.

The special guest, Dr Nasir Idris Executive Governor of Kebbi State was represented by his Deputy Governor Umar Abubakar Tafida. Former Governor of Kaduna State Alh. Mukhtar Ramalan Yero, former

Governor of Kano State Malam Ibrahim Shekarau, were also among other special guests at the occasion.

While delivering his remarks, the chief host, Governor Uba Sani commended the relentless effort of the Bureau of Interfaith as well as International Alert for organizing the conference in the State.

He described climate change as not just an environmental crisis but profound challenge that can destabilize nations, worsen inequalities, and provoke violence.

He reiterated that the Climate induced Conflict was not an abstract concept but a reality that the North must confront with urgency and determination.

The Sultan of Sokoto Alhaji Sa'ad Muhammad Abubakar III in his remarks advised Nigerians to stop castigating their leaders but to pray for them and the country, as nothing good or bad lasts forever.

He also cautioned religious leaders against misleading people for their personal gains.

He stressed, "Do your best in worshiping Allah (God) and leave the rest to Him, not to anybody. Don't follow those who will lead you astray. So many things have been happening in this country, and we believe we must return to Allah."

CAN President, Dr. Daniel C. Okoh, noted that climate change was a reality in the North, He described it as a humanitarian crisis that required urgent attention.

The CAN president called for urgent solutions to all sources of conflict, including poverty, inequality, and lack of access to resources. He stressed the need to educate the public about the impacts of climate change and the importance of environmental stewardship.

The CAN president joined the Sultan in urging leaders to tell the truth to their communities, affirming that Nigeria, a nation of deep religious conviction, can only succeed by praying and seeking divine assistance.

Gov Uba Sani harps on vital role of Judiciary in fight against insecurity

Governor Uba Sani has said that the judiciary has an important role to play in the government's sustained fight against insecurity citing delays in prosecution which emboldens criminals.

The Governor argued that for government "to effectively degrade and defeat criminal elements in Kaduna State, agencies responsible for prosecution and the judiciary must prioritize security and ensure that there is no undue delay in prosecution."

He stated this at the swearing-in of Justice Murtala Jafaaru Zubairu as a High Court Judge at the Council Chamber of Sir Kashim Ibrahim House. Governor Uba Sani pledged to improve the workplace environment for judicial personnel, strengthening public trust in the justice system, improving access to justice for citizens, and facilitating continuing education for judicial officers.

"I am committed to enhancing a cordial working relationship with the judicial arm of the government," the Governor said, promising to continue doing "all that is necessary in promoting, projecting and ensuring that our justice service delivery and indeed the justice sector keeps working in line with the extant provisions of the law."

The Governor promised that his administration remained dedicated to strengthening the judicial system, adding that he will continue to support the judiciary in all ways possible to ensure effective and efficient administration of justice.

Governor Uba Sani further said that "one of the key priorities of our administration is the revitalization of the Justice Sector to effectively play its role of justice delivery."

According to him, "an efficient Criminal Justice System is critical to the building and sustenance of a stable, secure and democratic society."

The Governor urged the newly sworn in Judge to discharge his responsibilities without fear or favour, adding that "the oath you have taken today is for justice to be delivered without delay," pointing out that "we cause incalculable harm to victims, the accused, witnesses and the public when justice is delayed."

Gov Uba Sani said that Kaduna State Judges were ranked among the best in the country, and implored them "to be steadfast and to maintain and sustain your integrity as the last hope of the common man."

Gov Uba Sani: The Champion.....

According to the Governor, "the festival was a vibrant celebration of the rich culinary diversity of Kaduna and Northern Nigeria, designed to showcase a spectrum of local culinary art and street food." The Kaduna Food Festival attracted more than 2,000 guests daily, providing women with the platform to showcase their local businesses.

In addition, the Governor promised to continue supporting women entrepreneurs through "the Kaduna State Enterprise Development Agency (KADEDA) and by strengthening cooperative societies to provide women with access to credit and financial resources necessary for starting and expanding businesses."

At the summit, the Governor explained why his administration is investing in women. According to him, doing so is investing in not just in the economy but the future of Kaduna State. Governor Uba Sani implored all and sundry to "create a Kaduna State where every girl knows she has the right and the means to dream and achieve, and where every woman knows that she is valued, supported, and celebrated."

Apart from women empowerment, Government has supported 8,649 nano and micro businesses with grants, through the Kaduna State Enterprise Development (KADEDA). The support ranged from N300,000, N200,000, N150,000, N100,000, to N50,000, depending on the size, scope and nature of business. In fact, Governor Uba Sani's business-friendly administration has witnessed the influx of investors. For example, on May 13, 2024, Governor Uba Sani performed the ground breaking for the construction of the $50 Million Soya Bean Oil Refining Plant by Sunagrow International Oil Ltd at Kutungare, a village in Igabi Local Government. When completed, the Plant will have a production capacity of 500,000 litres per day, thereby contributing to the economic development of Kaduna and Nigeria. Thousands of direct and indirect jobs at various skill levels, from agricultural laborers to skilled technicians and engineers for the refinery operations, will be created. The project will enable the addition of value to agricultural products by processing them into higher-value products such as soya oil and meal, increase the income potential of farmers and create opportunities for local businesses to supply raw materials to the company. In addition, there will be transfer of technology and technical know-how to technicians and artisans.

Governor Uba Sani who launched the Kaduna State Women Economic Empowerment Policy, alongside the Women Peace and Security Action Plan, and Youth Peace and Security Action Plan, thanked Development Partners for their commitment and expertise while partnering with his administration. In the end, the Governor was given the title of Champion of Gender Equality and Women Economic Empowerment.

However, given the fact that he has impacted positively on every gender and all demographics, Governor Uba Sani deserves to be honoured with the title, "Champion of Inclusivity"

Kaduna State Excels in health workforce management, reduces under-5 children mortality

Kaduna State has made significant strides in health workforce management, earning recognition at the official launch of the 2023 State of States by BudgIT on October 29, 2024.

The state was invited to participate in a panel discussion at Fraser Suites, Abuja, highlighting its best practices in this critical area of healthcare.

During the event, Prof. Bello Yusuf Jamoh, Executive Secretary of the Kaduna State Primary Health Care Board, presented the insightful vision of Senator Uba Sani's SUSTAIN agenda for Human Resource development. This vision was warmly applauded by key stakeholders in Nigeria's health sector.

A remarkable achievement for Kaduna State is its monumental improvement in reducing under-5 children mortality. The state has leapfrogged to the top position in the North-West region, up from 6th place in 2022. This progress is a testament to the effectiveness of the state's healthcare initiatives.

Despite this success, Kaduna State still faces challenges in optimizing its health indices. However, the recent unveiling of the Kaduna State Strategic Health Policy documents by the Governor is expected to be a turning point in addressing these challenges.

Experts attribute the state's progress to improved infrastructure, supply chain management, and redistribution of health workers. These efforts have enhanced the performance of public health facilities, making quality healthcare more accessible to residents.

As Kaduna State continues to prioritize healthcare, its experience serves as a model for other regions. By addressing the complex issues surrounding healthcare access and workforce management, the state is taking significant steps towards ensuring the well-being of its citizens. (Agency report)

Kaduna civil servants on new wage, ride buses for free

Governor Uba Sani lived up to his pledge to uplift the living standard of workers and has approved a new minimum wage of N72,000 for Kaduna State civil servants effective November 2024. In addition, civil servants are to ride to and from work on government buses for free.

The decision is in line with his administration's commitment to the advancement of the interests of workers and improvement in the living conditions of the poor, vulnerable and underserved in Kaduna State.

It also aligns with Governor Uba Sani's lifelong commitment to the promotion and protection of workers' rights, enhancement of their welfare, and caring for the poor and weak.

The Governor, Uba Sani is set to launch the Free Transportation Scheme for civil servants with the release of 100

CNG buses. The buses will convey civil servants to and from work. This is aimed at alleviating the suffering of workers and enhancing their productivity.

Chief Press Secretary to the Gov, Mallam Ibrahim Musa said in a statement that a Joint Management Committee consisting of representatives of organized labour (NLC and TUC) and the State Government will be set up to manage the Free Transportation Scheme for civil servants.

"The Kaduna State Government will continue to fashion and implement policies and measures to bring succour to the people. We are committed to transforming the lives of the less privileged. With the sustained support of our citizens, we shall make Kaduna State a Model for Social Welfare Interventions," the statement said.

Kaduna marks World Children's Day, 16-year-old becomes Gov

Sixteen year old Hussaina Adamu Mustapha became the Governor of Kaduna State on November 20, in a symbolical take-over to mark this year's World Children's Day, which is celebrated annually by UNICEF.

World Children's Day is UNICEF's Global Day of Action for children, by children, marking the adoption of the Convention on the Rights of the Child. The theme of this year's celebration is "Listening To The Future."

In Kaduna State, it was marked by the "blueing" of Hassan Usman Katsina House (State House) and Sir Kashim Ibrahim House (Government House), where blue lights covered the two buildings on Wednesday night, November 19.

Kaduna State Government also highlighted the ground breaking initiative of His Excellency, Governor Uba Sani, which is aimed at transforming the lives of children and youth, in the lead up to the World Children's Day.

A press statement issued by the Commissioner of Health, Hajiya Umma Ahmad, said that the Governor has initiated the Kaduna Children Amplified Prevention System (KdCHAMPS).

According to her, KdCHAMPS is a bold and innovative program designed to tackle pressing challenges like substance abuse, mental health issues, and educational disparities.

"Led by the Kaduna State Bureau for Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment (KADBUSA), KdCHAMPS brings together families, schools, and communities to build resilience and unlock the potential of Kaduna's future generation," the statement added.

The statement further noted that over 60% of Kaduna state's population is under the age of 25 and "the rise in substance abuse and its devastating effects on families and communities calls for a solution that is both comprehensive and culturally relevant."

"KdCHAMPS addresses these issues head-on, offering age-specific support tailored to four critical stages of a child's life: early childhood, primary school, junior secondary, and senior secondary levels," the statement added.

Listing the advantages of the initiative, the statement noted that "from early childhood interventions that strengthen families through perinatal mental health services, to life skills programs like Unplugged and Friends in Focus that empower teenagers, KdCHAMPS ensures that every child in Kaduna has access to tools for success."

"The program also focuses on out-of-school children, providing literacy and vocational training to help them reengage with society and build brighter futures," the statement added. According to the statement, "KdCHAMPS is designed not just to prevent substance abuse but to create lasting change in the lives of children and families."

"It focuses on strengthening family bonds, equipping youth with essential life skills, and fostering safer, healthier communities. The initiative integrates global best practices with Kaduna's unique cultural and religious values, ensuring relevance and effectiveness," it clarified.

Staff of the Month award at KADPPA

Arc. Musa Chat received the Best Character Award for the Month of October. He expressed his gratitude for the recognition.

The DG congratulated him and mentioned that the aim of the monthly award is to encourage hardwork and dedication.

Uba Sani laments dearth of skills in the North

Governor Uba Sani was a special guest at the Stakeholders Roundtable on Northern Nigerian Youth Development organized by the Sir Ahmadu Bello Memorial Foundation at NAF Conference Center, Abuja, it was convened to address the impact of insecurity on youth development in the North and to a the pathway to a peaceful and prosperous North where youths can realize their potentials. Governor Uba Sani, one of the discussants of a paper by the National Security Adviser, Malam

Nuhu Ribadu entitled: "Addressing the Impact of Insecurity on Youth Development: Challenges and Opportunities," highlighted the skills deficit in Nigeria, especially in Northern Nigeria and the urgent imperative of prioritizing skills-based education.

He stated that his government's deficit response to the was building three Vocational and Technological Skills Acquisition Cities to equip the youths with the requisite skills to enable them take up jobs in industries and other businesses that the administration has attracted to Kaduna State.

The Skills Cities will graduate at least 12,000 youths annually, he said and also spoke about the re-modeling of Panteka Market in Kaduna to become a major centre for skills acquisition, engaging over 38,000 artisans.

He used the opportunity to urge the Northern elites to do some soul searching to unravel the reasons for the region's underdevelopment and the crippling challenges of insecurity, adding that it is time for all hands to be on deck to pull the region back from the brink.

Free fertiliser distribution historic– Gov Uba Sani

Governor Uba Sani has said that Kaduna State made history by carrying out the largest free fertilizer distribution in Nigeria and women farmers were key beneficiaries of the exercise.

The Governor who disclosed this at the Women Economic Empowerment Summit on Friday, said that he "approved the distribution of 500 trucks of fertilizer, out of which 240,000 bags has been distributed free to 120,000 smallholder farmers."

The Governor pointed out that revitalization of the agricultural sector is one of the key priorities of his administration and Kaduna State Government has recorded positive outcomes.

"Because of the critical role that women play in agriculture, especially in smallholder farming, we have been specifically targeting them in our agricultural empowerment programmes.

"Under the remarkable palliative program, Sustainable Livelihoods through Social Interventions and Economic Empowerment, the Get Back to Farm initiative (A Koma Gona) has breathed new life into our agricultural sector," he added.

According to Governor Uba Sani, "we distributed vital inputs—high-quality seeds, fertilizers, agrochemicals, and farming equipment—to 41,693 smallholder farmers and cooperatives across all 23 LGAs."
